

Printastique!

September 2023

Hello and thank you for signing up to the Printastique newsletter!

Conflict Inner Jungle

This Summer I printed a series of 20 pictures in 10 colourways, so just two prints per colour exist. The prints depict a clouded leopard battling with itself high above a tropical jungle river scene. My interpretation of the simple truth that our inner conflicts, struggles and worries are rarely grounded in true reality of our lives, our greatest fears are very unlikely to be realised. The energy we spend fighting our own selves wasted. Acrylic on paper, H500mm x W700mm. You can buy them at: <http://www.bramtan.com/original.html> or Etsy: <https://www.etsy.com/shop/BramTan>

Printastique! Packs Are shipping!

Some of the first kits destined for an independently run workshop were sent to Japan.

Private Printing Sessions

After some testing with friends, printing sessions at home can now be organised for small groups within the Paris area.

Showing My Work

I was lucky enough to exhibit at a small show at Micro Folie, Saint Germain en Laye.

New Greeting Cards

Three new sets of greeting cards are now available from my Etsy shop
